The Boeing Company Product Support Scholarship

Purpose:

The purpose of the Boeing Product Support Scholarship is to promote the manufacturing segment of the aviation industry, and specific career options available to product support. This scholarship provides financial support to students interested in a product support career.

Scholarship:

Annual scholarships will be available to students enrolled full time in a degree program that links both aircraft maintenance and product support studies.

Scholarship Requirements:

Eligibility for these scholarships is limited to students that meet the following minimum requirements:

1. Applicants must be enrolled in or have completed the Maintenance Technology studies and enrolled in or completed a minor in Product Support.
2. The student must have completed a minimum of 54 credit hours and be enrolled full time.
3. The student must have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.2.
4. The student must have two letters of recommendation, from current or former professors/instructors, attesting to the student's technical knowledge and leadership qualities.
5. The student must be active in an aviation student organization (Minority Aviation Council, Women in Aviation, Rotor and Wing Association of America, Aviation Management Society, Alpha Eta Rho, Aviation Ambassadors, etc.) or a student member in an aviation or support-related organization.

Application Process:

Each application must include the following:

1. Transcript that defines the courses completed, cumulative grade point average, and total credit hours through the most recently completed semester.
2. The completed application form.
3. Two letters of recommendation from current or previous professors/instructors.
4. Proof of membership in an aviation student organization.
5. A 250 to 500-word personal statement with an emphasis on the student's interest in a product support career.

Deadline: Friday of Fall Semester Finals Week

Scholarship Awards:

Three $1,000 scholarships will be awarded to students who meet the eligibility requirements.
